PROFESSIONAL CONTRIBUTIONS AND STANDING

Professor Dwyer is best known as a historian of eighteenth-century Scottish philosophy and culture, with particular emphasis on Adam Smith and sentimental literature. His scholarly books have been reviewed and recommended by British newspapers as well as academic journals. In addition to contributions to the field, he has also written a widely used textbook on Canadian business history and a critical skills book for university and college students.

The candidate also has a reputation outside the academy as a consultant to universities, colleges and faculties on program development and assessment. He is well-known for his pedagogic contributions to distance education (correspondence and online) at North Island College, Atkinson College at York University, and Athabasca University in Alberta. He also created and hosted a television series (The Long Look Back) for cable television on Vancouver Island in British Columbia.

As a university administrator and educational developer, in particular, Professor Dwyer has 1. helped run York's Centre for the Support of Teaching; 2. assisted York's Faculties in developing their Academic Plans; 3. acted as a consultant and writer for the multimillion dollar photonics centre of excellence won by York University with Laval; 4. co-developed The University Teaching Practicum program and materials for York's Faculty of Graduate Studies.

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS: A BRIEF SELECTION

Please note that I have given many papers and chaired many sessions at conferences over the past 25 years, far too numerous to list here. The conference presentations subsided after 1996 because I was preoccupied with my tasks as a university administrator and contract faculty member. All of the following presentations were refereed:

Adolescence in the 18th Century, Learned Societies Conference, Guelph, 1984.

Adam Smith's Moral Sentiments, Canadian Society for 18th-Century Studies, Guelph, 1985.

18th-Century Social Ethics, Eighteenth-Century Scottish Studies, Norfolk, Virginia, 1988

Scottish Philosophy, American Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies, New Orleans, 1989

Irony in the Eighteenth Century (Chair) and Love and Sexuality in the Eighteenth Century (Speaker), Canadian Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies, Montreal, 1989

Adam Smith and the Scottish Enlightenment, Nagoya International Symposium to Commemorate Adam Smith, Nagoya, Japan, 1990

Ethics and Economics, American Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies, Minneapolis, 1990

Moral Sentiments, Strathclyde Conference on the Glasgow Enlightenment, Glasgow, 1990

Nations as Communities, Society for the Study of European Ideas, Leuven, Belgium, 1990

Virtue and Improvement, Royal Society of Canada Conference, Vancouver, B.C., 1990

Concepts of Sociability in Eighteenth-Century Europe (Chair), American Historical Association, New York, 1990

Science and Religion in Modern Western Thought (Chair), York University Conference on Science and Religion, Toronto, 1994

Creating a University Teaching Practicum, Conference on Teaching and Learning in Higher Education, Ottawa, 1996

The Normative Foundation of Adam Smith's Economics, Conjoined Histories: Joint Conference of the Eighteenth-Century Ireland Society and the Eighteenth-Century Scottish Studies Society, Trinity College, Dublin Ireland, 17-20 June, 2004

Shakespeare's Sentiments, Empire, Philosophy and Religion, Central European University, Budapest, Hungary, 23-6 June 2005; also acted as Chair for session on Art and Aesthetics in the Enlightenment at the same conference.
